Haruki Kusaka, Director of Clinical Development Dept. receives Outstanding Leadership Award at HEALTH 2.0 Conference (Dubai, UAE)

J-Pharma Co., Ltd. (Headquarters: Yokohama, Kanagawa; President & CEO: Masuhiro Yoshitake) is pleased to announce that Haruki Kusaka, Director of Clinical Development Department, received the Outstanding Leadership Award at the HEALTH 2.0 Conference held in Dubai, UAE from June 19 to 21, 2023.

Haruki Kusaka received the award because he has been involved in all aspects of the development of nanvuranlat, built the organization and system from scratch and executed them as an integral manager, and because he gained the trust of investigators and promoted the clinical trial, which resulted in an academic presentation as a first-in-class drug development.

- Haruki Kusaka comments

We are very honored to receive this award from Health 2.0. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to everyone involved, as my experience at our company led me to receive this award. We will continue to study every day in various fields to create new drugs originating from Japanese bio-venture. We will work together to deliver breakthrough drugs to patients as soon as possible.

Reference

- Health 2.0 Conference

Health 2.0 Conference, launched in 2007 in California, USA, is the largest and most active global conference for the live presentation of the latest technologies and their applications in the healthcare field.
